

TELEHEALTH RESOURCES FOR CONSUMERS

As more and more services are being delivered virtually due to COVID-19, many people with HIV are facing challenges accessing the services they need. Barriers may include lack of adequate technology, digital literacy and privacy concerns. These resources may help consumers overcome barriers to accessing telehealth and other virtual services.

<https://www.mayoclinic.org/healthy-lifestyle/consumer-health/in-depth/telehealth/art-20044878>

General telehealth information

<https://www.fcc.gov/general/telehealth-telemedicine-and-telecare-whats-what> General telehealth information

<https://www.ncdhhs.gov/about/department-initiatives/telehealth/patientconsumer-telehealth-resources> General telehealth information

<https://www.fcc.gov/general/lifeline-program-low-income-consumers> Federal Program for accessing affordable phone service.

<https://www.cheapinternet.com/states/new-york-internet-service> Free and low-cost Internet

<https://www.reviews.org/mobile/how-to-get-free-government-cell-phones/> Resources for free phone service